curious fact is, that there are no physical difficulties of any importance to contend with as on the Atlantic line—no 1600 miles of submarine cable to be laid down,—the whole, with the exception of the connecting together of the East India Islands, is all but dry land, for from London to Singapore the only waters are the Straits of Dover and the Bosphorus.

We hope this matter will not be allowed to drop. We invite the communications of those who have any knowledge of the lines of route, or other information, and feel an interest in these views: no one, now a days, need fear being accused of Utopianism for entertaining the feasibility of the project. Matters have so far progressed, and such rapid advances have been made in the science of electric communication, that nothing but misunderstanding between some nations, or the ignorance and barbarism of others, can prevent the whole surface of the earth, wherever man is, from being intersected by the magic wire. The last advices from England tell us that the line between London and St. Petersburg—1700 miles—is now complete, and that the communication is instantaneous. With such prospects, we might communicate with London in a day.

WESLEYAN CONFERENCE.

(Communicated to the South Australian Register, February 9.)

It is now three years since the Wesleyan Churches of Australia were constituted by the British Conference a distinct though affiliated connection, having a Conference of its own. The work of the secretaries and missionaries which were thus introduced has been clearly evinced by the lapse of time, and will, we doubt not, conduce to enlarged and permanent good.

The third annual session of the Australasian Wesleyan Conference has this year been held in Adelaide. A preliminary prayer-meeting took place in the Conference Chapel, Pirie-street, on the preceding evening, which was attended by all the ministers, and by at least one hundred laymen. On Thursday morning, January 22nd, the Conference began. The Rev. John A. Merton, of Hobart College, Tasmania, took the chair, having been appointed President by the British Conference. This appointment has been received throughout the connexion with unmingled satisfaction, and was recognised by the Conference in a resolution of cordial approval. Mr. Merton's urbanity, order, and general ability eminently fitted him for his important position, and secured to him the esteem and confidence of every member of the Conference.

The Rev. Daniel J. Draper, of Melbourne, was elected to the office of Secretary, which is next in importance to that of President. The Revs. Thomas Buddle and Henry H. Gaud, were chosen Assistant Secretaries.

The address from the British Conference was read. It was replete with lessons of the highest wisdom, and breathed the spirit of sympathy and love. A suitable reply was afterwards prepared for transmission to the Vice-President.

Four candidates who had satisfactorily passed through the usual period of probation and the various examinations were received into "full connexion" with the Conference. Three of these are to be ordained in their respective districts, as on account of distance, they could not attend the Conference for that purpose. The Rev. Spencer Williams, who has just completed his probation, and the Revs. John Harcourt, R. C. Fletcher, and Joseph Danby, whose remarkable circumstances had hitherto prevented from being publicly set apart, were solemnly ordained by the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery. The ordination service was a deeply interesting solemnity. The candidates witnessed a good confession before many witnesses, and the charge, which was delivered by the rev. President, was the hearty expression of the responsibilities and duties of their calling.

Seven young men of "good report" and strongly recommended by their respective district meetings, were received on trial. It is a painful circumstance that the colonial churches are thus supplying candidates to the ministerial ranks. Seven other duly accredited candidates have just arrived from England, so that this year the Australian Conference adds four to the number of its probationers. There are now seven young men in the various stages of their probation for the full work of the ministry.

In connection also with the Missionary department of the work five converts were received on trial as native assistant missionaries. Two of these belong to the New Zealand districts; their baptismal names are John Eggleston and Joseph Orion. Three are natives of Peries, and are described as young men of much intelligence and promise. In New Zealand, the Friends and the Presbyteries there are now twenty natives employed as assistant missionaries in preaching the Gospel to their countrymen.

Two ministers in the course of the year were removed by death. One of these, the Rev. Walter Tregelles, was comparatively young; the other, the Rev. Benjamin Hurst, was long known and highly valued throughout the Wesleyan Churches in Australia. He was appointed by the New South Wales District Minister to the Executive of the Australian Conference, but in the interval he was succeeded by his brethren in the ministry, who will receive this intelligence with sincere pleasure. When the result of the ballot was announced to the Conference Mr. Butters received the congratulations of the President and Secretary, and of other leading members of the body. The British Conference will no doubt readily acquiesce in this appointment, which will prove no less acceptable to the members and office-bearers of the Wesleyan Church than to the Society. Special attention was made by the Secretary to the qualification which the ministers of the Victoria District, in which Mr. Butters had so long presided as chairman, would feel with this act of Conference, as he was aware that Mr. Butters retained a high place in their affectionate regard for the present.

The Conference requested the British Conference to regard the Ex-President (the Rev. W. B. Boyce) as their representative in the various districts and circuits, the circuit of which he had been president, and the possibility of granting the application for additional ministers in numerous instances, all unite to render this a momentous and somewhat difficult duty. Never were appointments made with more prayerful and thoughtful deliberation on any former occasion by the Conference than they have now been. And it is earnestly hoped that the entrance of every minister into his circuit will be to the fulness of the blessing of the friends of Christ.

The increase in the number of Church members in the Australian colonies is 698, and in the Mission District of Peries, 913. A decrease has taken place in New Zealand and the Friendly Islands, which is accounted for by circumstances affecting the native population of those districts. The number on trial for Church membership throughout the Australasian connexion is 236.

The individual ministers does not keep pace with the extent and demands of the work, and the interests of the cause of Christ are in consequence in many places injuriously affected. No fewer than twelve additional ministers are at this moment needed for New South Wales, and an equal number for Victoria alone. The entire number of ministers in connection with the Australasian Conference, including supernumeraries, probationers, and native assistant missionaries, is 146, which is an increase of 21 over last year; but yet it may be said that "the harvest truly is plenteous: the labourers are few."

The mixed committee of ministers and lay gentlemen representing the various districts which met during the Conference was a meeting of great importance and interest. Its proceedings were marked in a high degree by the spirit of concord and ardent attachment to the cause of Christ. The business of this general committee referred chiefly to the financial interests of the connexion, which were found to be in a satisfactory state. Contributions of money were paid to the office connected with the different funds, and arrangements made for the ensuing year. The recommendations of this committee were unanimously adopted by the Conference, which passed a resolution thankfully acknowledging the liberality with which the various connexional funds are supported throughout the Australasian connexion.

The fund for worn-out ministers and ministers' widows is supported by the annual subscriptions of the ministers, supplemented by congregational collections. Hitherto most of the Australian ministers have been members of the English Annuitant Society, but measures are now in progress for the formation of a similar fund in connection with the Australian Conference.

The minutes of the Executive Missionary Committee, which has its seat in Sydney, were read and passed. To this committee is entrusted the general management of the connexion throughout the year. The importance of early remittances was impressively urged by several speakers. It was decided that a quarterly missionary notice shall be published under the editorship of the Missionary Secretary. Grateful allusion was made to the urbanity and useful services rendered by the missionaries in the South Seas by officers of Her Majesty's navy. The Conference appointed several additional ministers to reinforce these important stations. The Rev. Thomas Addison is to return to the West Indies, and the Revs. J. Crawford, M. Devon, and G. Lee have stations assigned them in those interesting fields of labour. It was stated that in the Peries district, during the late spread of Christianity, 100 devil houses had been transformed into temporary chapels for the worship of the true God, and that in various islands of the group there are many thousands of professing Christians anxiously waiting for missionaries.

The important office of General Missionary Secretary is to be occupied by the Rev. John Eggleston, and the expenses of the duties of that office during the past year elicited the cordial thanks of the Conference. A vote of thanks was also passed at the same time to the Hon. G. Allen, M.L.C., of Sydney, for his services as treasurer, with Mr. Eggleston, and to George W. Allen, Esq., for his efficient aid to the treasurer in enabling them to meet the current expenses of the missions throughout the year.

The estimated revenue of the Missionary Society for the past year, 1856, was £25,221 1s. 7d., and the expenditure about £20,300. The difference lies in the hands of the Missions Committee.

The book affairs of the Connexion occupied the earliest attention of the Conference. It was felt that the establishment of central book depots in the principal cities of Australia was desirable, and that the terms offered by the Book Committee in London were liberal. The kindness of the Rev. W. B. Boyce, the Ex-President, in connection with these affairs was also highly appreciated. The Conference, however, was of opinion that the Missions Committee had made up with exactness before the Conference, owing to the non-receipt of the subscription lists, a slight discrepancy may be found between these amounts and the amounts which will be shortly published in the Missionary Report.

With regard to the Wesleyan Church Extension Fund, the Conference resolved that in future its designation should be, "The Contingent and Wesleyan Church Extension Fund."

The book affairs of the Connexion occupied the earliest attention of the Conference. It was felt that the establishment of central book depots in the principal cities of Australia was desirable, and that the terms offered by the Book Committee in London were liberal. The kindness of the Rev. W. B. Boyce, the Ex-President, in connection with these affairs was also highly appreciated. The Conference, however, was of opinion that the Missions Committee had made up with exactness before the Conference, owing to the non-receipt of the subscription lists, a slight discrepancy may be found between these amounts and the amounts which will be shortly published in the Missionary Report.

The estimated revenue of the Missionary Society for the past year, 1856, was £25,221 1s. 7d., and the expenditure about £20,300. The difference lies in the hands of the Missions Committee.

The item was then put and negatived without a division.

The following item was next put—For repairing and maintaining the buildings at the Quarantine station, Spring Cove, £1000.

Mr. DONALDSON explained the reason that induced the Government to ask for this sum.

Mr. COWPER thought that ridiculously large sums had been from time to time expended on the Quarantine station. Formerly, ships had been frequently sent to that station when there was no need whatever for protection.

Mr. HAY explained that, as the buildings were of timber, and much exposed, the repairs for which the vote was asked were much needed. The Colonial Architect had reported to the Government that if the buildings were to stand over a long time inconvenience and a necessity for a larger expenditure would follow.

Mr. R. CAMPBELL would oppose the vote, seeing that Ministers opposite were unable to explain to the House why the sum was to be expended, or in what way the money was to be expended.

Mr. WEEKES would support the item. If the Quarantine buildings were not kept in a state of perfect repair, they might as well not have a Quarantine station at all.

Mr. BARKER would support the vote.

Mr. PARKER explained the necessity for the vote. The item was then put and passed without a division.

Mr. DONALDSON moved the following item: For repairs and additions to the Immigration depot, Brisbane, £2500, and read from a report forwarded to the Government by the Immigration Agent the nature as to the repairs and additions required, and also the estimate of the Colonial Architect, upon which the item was based. The sum would be debited to the account of the new colony in the event of separation being granted.

Mr. F. T. RUSDEN moved that the item be reduced by £1000.

Mr. RICHARDSON supp lied the full item.

The amendment was put and negatived, and on the original question being put, Mr. F. T. RUSDEN further moved that the item be reduced by £999.

Mr. BUCKLEY, in support of the original sum, referred to the state of the Emigration buildings at Sydney, and stated that the amount to be expended in repairing them was the same as the amount proposed to be made up by the sum voted by the House.

Mr. F. T. RUSDEN moved that the item be reduced by £1000.

Mr. COWPER supp lied the full item.

The amendment was put and negatived, and on the original question being put, Mr. F. T. RUSDEN further moved that the item be reduced by £999.

Mr. BUCKLEY, in support of the original sum, referred to the state of the Emigration buildings at Sydney, and stated that the amount to be expended in repairing them was the same as the amount proposed to be made up by the sum voted by the House.

Mr. F. T. RUSDEN moved that the item be reduced by £1000.

Mr. COWPER spoke in favour of reduction.

Mr. JONES, on the understanding that this sum would be raised by loan, would vote for the full item.

Mr. DONALDSON would have no objection to place the item with others that were to be raised by loan, if the committee thought proper. The honorable member then read the various items he intended to add, which were to be raised by loan.

Mr. F. T. RUSDEN then withdrew his amendment, and the question for the original sum was put and carried.

The following item was next put, for an Immigration depot at Maryborough, to be raised by loan—a sum of £2500.

The following items to be raised by loan were then put and carried:

Item of bridge at Ipswich, Moreton Bay £150 0 0

Item of bridge at Nth Brisbane 500 0 0

Item over Lockyer's Creek, Moreton Bay 1000 0 0

Item over Loddon's Creek 1000 0 0

For the repair of the roads, Little Liverpool Range, Moreton Bay 1000 0 0

Item at Ipswich 2000 0 0

For the formation of a road, and the construction of Ipswich 50 0 0

For the formation of a road between Ipswich and Ipswich 3000 0 0

For the formation of a road between Maryborough and Brisbane 500 0 0

For the purchase of horses, between the Upper Dawson and the Lower Dawson 400 0 0

The following item was put and passed:—For repairs at the Protestant Orphan School at Parramatta, £500.

Mr. DONALDSON moved the following item, to be raised by loan: For removing obstructions to the navigation of the Rivers Brisbane and Bremer, a sum of £1000.

Mr. BUCKLEY suggested the withdrawal of this item for the present, as he wished to know how far £1000 would go towards clearing a river of rocks. (Several hon. members: "There is only one rock.") Whether one or more, £1000 would not go far. But besides this was the River Hunter to be considered; whilst Port Jackson and the Parramatta River were suffering from neglect. He did not object to these, but he thought some rule ought to be laid down for the expenditure of money in this respect, as he decidedly objected to one portion of the community being taxed for an expenditure that concerned a locality alone.

Mr. MARKS thought it was a question that affected the Moreton Bay people alone, as all these sums expended would have to be refunded on the separation of this district from the country.

Mr. BUCKLEY pointed out the inconvenience that the inhabitants of the Moreton and Bremer suffered even from the falling of a single tree in the line of navigation, and contended that, under the circumstances, this work ought to be executed.

Mr. T. RUSDEN said that, in voting for this sum, the Moreton Bay representatives were exceeding their powers, as they were contracting a debt for the people that they would never be able to wipe off.

The question was then put and carried.

The following item was voted, after a few explanatory remarks from Mr. DONALDSON: For the construction of the electric telegraph at Brisbane £500 0 0

For the carrying navigation of the entrance of River Mary, for 10 miles 500 0 0

For the construction of a public wharf at Mary- 500 0 0

On a custom of a sum being proposed, for the erection of a Custom House Station at the mouth of Moreton Bay, £500.

Mr. PIDDINGTON wished some hon. members for the district would state to the House what necessitated this vote.

Mr. BUCKLEY and Mr. FAUCETT said that the Custom House office had been sent down there with the plan of a residence, which had never yet been furnished to him.

A few remarks in opposition from Mr. T. G. RUSDEN, the vote was carried.

The following sums were also voted—for the erection of court and watch-houses at Maryborough, £1000; Nanango, Wide Bay, £500; Tiarroone, Wide Bay, £500.

Mr. DONALDSON then moved the following item, being the amount sent down to the House in Government's Message of yesterday:—NATIVE POLICE FORCE, proposed by the report of the Select Committee of the Legislative Assembly, 28th January, 1857.

on the unoffending natives beyond the limits of civilization.

Mr. SUTTOR considered the question a most difficult one, and that much of the efficiency of the force would depend upon the appointment of a qualified head. Although he was in favour of the continuance of this force on the frontier districts, he thought it right to abolish it in the more populous districts.

The committee then divided on the amendment of Mr. G. Macleay, which was lost by a majority of 24 to 19.

The committee then divided on the next amendment for reducing the sum by £1450, which was carried by a majority of 22 to 19.

The House then resumed, and the committee obtained leave to sit again to-morrow (this day).

Several Messages were received from the Legislative Council, the names of which will be seen in the proceedings of that body.
